● Summary:

The Lesson Plans Page is a collection of over 2,000 FREE lesson plans for teachers to use in their classrooms. There are lesson plans for all subjects and grade levels. The site also contains free math worksheets, science experiments, an educator discussion forum, articles, and more. Teachers are invited to add their own lesson plans to improve the quality of the resource. The site always has been and always will be 100% free!

● A Brief History:

The Lesson Plans Page was launched in October of 1996 by Kyle Yamnitz. It was developed to allow educators to share resources and ideas to help make teaching easier. While it was started with only a few lesson plans, it has grown to house more than 2,000, with more being added all the time!

● Making Teaching Easier:

The Lesson Plans Page has attempted to make teaching easier with lesson plans for just about any subject, and just about any grade level. In addition to holding lesson plans, the site contains a large number of thematic units, classroom ideas, worksheets, science projects, and teaching guides. The site was primarily designed for teachers, but many others have benefited as well. Among them are college students in education, home schoolers, and parents.

● Our Goals:

The Lesson Plans Page has big plans for growth in the future. One goal is to always have more lesson plans than any other site to provide the best possible resource. We hope to add another 500 lesson plans each year. Another goal is to have such a vast collection of obscure lesson plans to be able to teach just about any topic. Last, we plan to do whatever it takes to keep the site accessible to all teachers, free, and easy to use.
